~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> ~~there are some strong factors regarding~~ Speaker's diction, volume, poise, eye contact and confidence - all are extremely critical to this event. Some of you had trouble w/ volume and eyecontact, which <sup>will</sup> affect your score. Also some spoke way to fast which also ~~made~~ caused reduction in score. Those that were passionate about their bill really stood out.

Regarding quality of argument: I felt <sup>certain</sup> speakers stood out - they knew the relevant issues and ~~very~~ laid out their points with structure and clarity. Be careful as most of you stared at your paper and ~~never~~ looked up the entire time. Loved the students who used statistics to ~~back~~ back up their points.

It is also ~~important~~ important to understand the rules of congress regarding motions, ~~questioning~~ <sup>questioning</sup> etc. Those that asked more questions - relevant questions that took thought also got higher points. Those that switched sides also got higher points.

One of you mentioned the racial statistics - only person to do that.

Pam Alster-Jahrmarkt

my overall feelings going into this Round are that ~~adding~~ Speaking Style and clarity are the most important thing. Eye Contact/Volume!

The second is the content of the argument.

The third is the Knowledge of Procedure.

An overall comment is Punctuality to Round, and respect for the Room when entering late/checking in - Knowing Protocol.

The participation ~~of~~ by questioning is a boost for your ranking. Pacing and clarity and enunciation overall has an impact on your score.

Careful appearing as if you are reading your argument out loud for the first time.

Careful to avoid words that are repeatative
"like" "um" ...

Avoid Mumbling your answers.
