THOMAS:

You put up a powerful offensive. You were observant of your opponent's flaws and maintained a strong structure of your argument. Overall, very excellent. My only small critique is that you move your hands and arms a lot — don't. Be calmer with your body language and keep a good speed and volume of your speeches.

MIKE:

You shouldn't doubt your abilities — you have a great potential to be a great debator. Be sure to look up from your laptop more, and rely on more structured logic than on pure evidence. Evidence is only as effective as the context of the argument you put into it. I respect your confidence and tenacity — just try to speak a bit faster and louder to match your opponent. You did good, and hope you keep trying your best, learning with every debate you participate in.
