Affirmative was very strong in Their opening arguments: filtering; DC Example tenants having opportunity to purchase homes (Daniel - Good job)

Also, Racial Segregation is questioned by Zaire; filtering helps lower-income not de-segregation.

Sunny Negative was extremely well prepared: 2.5 million units San Jose - Urban area. MHH increases homelessness. (Ellie)

Both Teams did a great job of defending Their arguments. I would like to hear more about the costs associated with the older homes being repaired(!), as it is filtered down!

Greet round ladies.

Aff. your case did not stand to provide how more housing would be created in the initial Aff. and your impacts were very strong. Neg. you never said where the rich were moving. If you are building in for the class.

~~Don't play with your hair, Rocketfist. Great speaking but very cliche.~~

Neg. I don't think you understood Aff's point about people cheating on the housing app which was valid but I don't think was weighty enough. Your impacts were strong and you were correct in that rent control or subsidies were not good.

NEG gets the impact win on ~~rebuttal~~ the ASR's CI abt surge of the housing market - also wins on filter arg: w/ the cut corners arg. By the end of the round, I have no clue how much is the most beneficial solution/or how it saves the housing crisis; I'm only given tags with a lack of expansion. I ~~got~~ get the increase in supply ext. from neg, so I can vote on something tangible on neg side.
