A Resolution in Support of the Original Concept of Statehood

1. Whereas, our forefathers, in crafting the republican ideal of a united confederacy of states, realized that
2. local norms, visions, goals, and preferences are often more important
3. than a bland federal vision that applied to all states, and
4. Whereas, they allowed this localized autonomy through the 10th amendment, and
5. Whereas, current states such as Washington have often become divided either
6. geographically or culturally, and
7. Whereas, the divisions appears to be growing more, and not less marked and divisive, and
8. Whereas, in the state of Washington the more populous counties of the northern I-5 are
9. considerably more liberal politically and socially, and
10. Whereas their counterparts east of the Cascades often feel isolated, dominated by the 11. culturally different west, and marginalized in their more conservative views by the sheer
12. numbers in the I-5 corridor, and
13. Whereas eastern Washington actually has far more in common with eastern Oregon and
14. California, and
15. Whereas Seattle and Tacoma actually have far more in common with San Francisco than 16. Spokane, and
17. Whereas many states have seen, over the years, a similar rise in cultural division, and
18. Whereas the current number of 50 states is just an arbitrary and not predestined number
19. to which we should be wed, considering that we have often had prime numbers of states,
20. odd numbers, even numbers, and have lost numbers, therefore,
21. Be It Resolved, by the Congress here Assembled, that the United States provide a two
22. year period of time to address citizen concerns and proposals to allow the division of
23. current states, the merging of citizens of several states into one body, and the creation of
24. new states, to be recognized by a re-division of congress, regardless of what the final
25. number of states shall be, since 50 is not a sacred number.

A Resolution to Balance the National Budget

1. Whereas, The United States owes more than 13 trillion dollars in debt, amounting to over
2. 40 thousand dollars a person, or over 120 thousand dollars per taxpayer, and
3. Whereas, President Obama has pledged to address this issue, however the deficit has increased
4. to 1.3 trillion dollars. As spending continues to increase, the national debt continues to rise, and
5. Whereas, if immediate action is not taken, future generations could experience economic or
6. foreign relation problems as a direct result of current, out of control spending, and
7. Whereas, if countries like China call in our debt, our country could face economic ruin or
8. militaristic limitation in a time of international conflict, and
9. Whereas, the federal government currently spends 3 trillion dollars, while bringing in only 2
10. trillion dollars in revenue, and
11. Whereas, The federal government is also in the process of paying back the more

10 WHEREAS, In addition to the high rate of civilian deaths caused by CM's the 11 unexploded bomblets pose a dangerous hazard to anyone on the ground; 12 and
13 WHEREAS, The signing of the CCM would set a precedent that allies which use 14 these weapons would most likely follow; now, therefore, be it

A Resolution to De-fund Private Security Contracts for Military Missions

1. WHEREAS, the United States military regularly conducts combat and supply operations in
2. numerous foreign theaters; and
3. WHEREAS, recently the Pentagon has begun the practice of contracting with private corporations
4. for the sole purpose of providing security for US military installations and foreign

7. structure with no direct oversight or regulation; and
8. WHEREAS, there have been numerous cases of PSC personnel engaging in conduct that is either
9. detrimental to the integrity of the military mission, or is outright criminal behavior; and

A Resolution for Proportional Representation

1. Whereas; political participation in the United States is in jeopardy because of our
2. harsh “first past the post” district elections, and
3. Whereas the promotion of a bipartisan system leads to political gridlock, as well as
4. decreases the efficiency of local and national government, and
5. Whereas; increasing the participation of independent parties, which would make more
6. of a majority in the government if the “first past the post” systems were eliminated,
7. would mean greater participation for the average U.S. citizen, and
8. Whereas; disenfranchised people in the United States who currently realize that votes
9. don’t matter will become more incorporated into our government and voter turnout
10. would soar.
11. Therefore, be it the will of the student congress thus assembled in glorious service to 12. our nation to redistrict the nation to the proportional representation of districts as
13. practiced in Great Britain and various other nations around the world.

A Resolution to Remove the Brazilian Ethanol Tariff

1 Whereas, the cost of American E85 ethanol will cause the average driver $1,600 more
2 than using conventional diesel gasoline because of the small amount of corn 3 ethanol produced in the U.S. and;
4 Whereas, Brazil has been striving toward energy independence, since the 1973 oil 5 embargo, and is now the largest supplier of cellulosic ethanol in the world and;
6 Whereas, the $0.54 tax on imported Brazilian ethanol has let the U.S. corn ethanol
7 industry monopolize the market despite it's inferior efficiency to sugarcane
8 and;
9 Whereas, the use of ethanol lowered the U.S. trade deficit by $5.1 billion by eliminating 10 the need to import 143 million barrels of oil and;
11 Whereas, the use of Brazilian sugarcane can lead to a higher commodity price for sugar 12 producers in Brazil, with the potential to lift thousands out of poverty and;
13 Whereas, the recent use of the corn in ethanol has risen corn prices more than 80
14 percent since last summer, from $2.17 to nearly $4 a bushel, leaving many Latin 15 American countries unable to afford basic food staples;
16 Resolved, by the student congress assembled here today that we remove the $0.54 tax 17 on imported sugarcane from Brazil so American drivers, the American economy, 18 the Brazilian economy, and Latin American countries may benefit from the uses 19 of cellulosic ethanol.
